Transfer from Xenia Theological Seminary
HISTORY

David MacDill was born in Morning Sun, Preble County, Ohio, August 26, 1826. He graduated from Centre College, Kentucky. His theological education was attained at Oxford and Allegheny Seminaries. First Ohio Presbytery licensed MacDill in 1852. Chillicothe Presbytery ordained him when he became pastor at Cherry Fork, Ohio, where he served from 1853 to 1876. MacDill was called then to Henderson, Illinois where he remained from 1877 until 1884. Mr. MacDill was then made Professor of Philosophy at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, serving until appointed Professor of Theology at Xenia Theological Seminary, Xenia in 1884. He remained at this post until 1902. Date of death is not available (perhaps 1902).

SCOPE

The record of David MacDill is composed of lectures and pamphlets and class notes by Gilbert O. Miller from 1896. See also catalogue at Barbour Library, Pittsburgh Theological Seminary for circulating publications.
