Transfer from Allegheny-Pittsburgh Seminary
HISTORY

David A. McClenahan was born in Guernsey County, Ohio on February 24, 1853. He attended Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio, where he graduated in 1876. McClenahan proceeded to Allegheny and Xenia Theological Seminaries, attaining his B.D. in 1881. Mansfield Presbytery ordained Mr. McClenahan in that year when he became pastor of the Amity and Avondale congregations where he remained until 1882. He then served as pastor of the West 44th Street church in New York City from 1882 until 1885. At that point, Mr. McClenahan joined the faculty of Pittsburgh Seminary where he was Professor of Old Testament Literature and Exegesis, a position he served until his death, October 4, 1921.

David McClenahan was Moderator of 1st Synod of the West in 1892, delegate to Pan-Presbyterian Council in 1899 and Moderator of General Assembly, 1909. An LL.D. was conferred (date unavailable).

SCOPE
