ARCHIVES
Pittsburgh Theological Seminary
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

BEVERIDGE, Thomas, D.D. (1796-1873)
60:18

Transferred from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary
HISTORY

Thomas Beveridge, D.D. was the son of the Rev. Thomas Beveridge (60:19) – a native of Scotland – and father of Thomas Hanna Beveridge (60:20). Thomas Beveridge, D.D. was born October 9, 1796 in Cambridge, New York where his father was pastor. He attended Union College, Schenectady, New York, graduating in 1814, then proceeded to study theology with Dr. John Anderson, at Service Seminary, Beaver County, Pennsylvania. Ordained by the Associate Presbytery of Kentucky on January 9, 1821, Mr. Beveridge became pastor at Xenia and Sugar Creek, Ohio, but resigned in 1824 due to ill health. For three years he “itinerated” and then became stated supply at Philadelphia in February of 1827 and, in June 1828, its pastor. In October 1835 Dr. Beveridge was appointed Professor in the Associate Theological Seminary in Canonsburg, Pennsylvania. At the same time he was pastor of a church in Washington, Pennsylvania. In late 1849 Dr. Thomas Beveridge became co-pastor with Dr. Abraham Anderson at Venice, Pennsylvania. When the seminary moved in 1855 to Xenia, Ohio Dr. Beveridge moved with it. He resigned his professorship October 14, 1871 and died in Xenia, May 30, 1873.

SCOPE

The record of Thomas Beveridge, D.D. contains publications by or about Dr. Beveridge and a picture of Rev. Thomas [Hanna] Beveridge, his son, a graduate of Canonsburg Seminary.

I. Publications.

Rev. Thomas Beveridge, D.D. Address to…Students, United Presbyterian Seminary, Xenia Seminary, Xenia, Ohio. Presbyterian Witness Office Print, Cincinnati, [Ohio], 1863.

Picture: Rev. Thomas H. Beveridge (son of Dr. Thomas Beveridge, a graduate of Canonsburg Seminary)

Pittsburgh Theological Seminary

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania